

In wartime, truth is so precious that she should always be attended by a bodyguard of lies.
Winston Churchill